

As a paying customer, I think that XM should have the right to broadcast anything the want. Weather and traffic especially, regular radio stations are filled with so much useless information and schemes that take away what's really important, THE RADIO!